- The course is made up of 16 units plus 2 WAU (Working across units) sections, the latter being an important revision tool.
- Units are presented one at a time and can be chosen according to preference.
- Every slide in the unit gets saved by the platform system, so that the student can interrupt work on the course at any time and resume from where they left.
- The units are always accessible and can be consulted at any time. The student can complete the exercises again for revision purposes.

The test is not timed. At the top righthand corner there is a timer with the sole purpose of allowing the student to keep track of the minutes spent in carrying out the test.

- Students can choose to follow a ten week course in the first or second semester. The classroom lessons provide a fundamental opportunity for interaction with the teacher and other students in the class.
- Although attendance is not compulsory, the lessons can be considered an integral part of the learning process. Students can find the programme for the lessons on the IULM website under the Section ILC.
